

PANIC RULES.

Three More National Banks Go Down in Denver.

Such Scenes as Were Never Before Witnessed in the West.

EXCITED MASSES OF PEOPLE CROWDING EVERY BUSINESS STREET.

The Eleven Clearing House Banks Surrounded by Clamorous Throngs, the Lines Extending Far Up the Streets—The Police Called Upon to Clear the Way for Traffic—Runs Made on a Dozen or More Banks—Failures Elsewhere.

DENVER, Colo., July 18.—No such a scene was ever witnessed in all the West as could be seen here this morning shortly after 10 o'clock, when the banks were supposed to open their doors for business. The failure of three savings banks yesterday had excited the masses as the smell of blood would the Russian wolves, and at the hour of opening the streets were crowded with anxious depositors. The eleven clearing-house banks, located within four blocks of each other, were surrounded, and far into the streets the crowd gathered until officers and special police were called out to clear the way for traffic. At 10 o'clock the Union National, with a capital of $1,000,000, posted a notice that they would not open their doors. This started the panic, and, following quickly the Commercial National posted a similar notice, and then the National Trust, the Colorado, and people asked: "Where will this stop?"

A run was immediately started on all of the other banks, though to no great extent upon the People's National. The First National appeared to be the soundest of all, they having only 20 per cent of their deposits on hand, with a private fund of $1,000,000 in addition to draw upon, making it impossible to close their doors. The Colorado National and several others are in equally good condition.

The mob withdrawing their money are all small depositors, the large holders being satisfied to let their accounts remain in the banks. The banks are paying all demands except on time certificates, they demanding that these remain until the expiration of time. As every bank is crowded the clearing-house is rendering no assistance, each institution being compelled to stand upon its own foundation.

President J. A. Thatcher of the Clearing-house Association says: "I am confident that to-day will see the worst of the panic and people will come to their senses. At the meeting of the Clearing-house last night we decided that we could not help the banks, and so some of them have gone to the wall. All of them, I believe, have ample security to protect all depositors, but unfortunately at this time cash and not security is what the majority of the people are clamoring for."

At the State National, of which J. D. McNeil is President, quite a run is in progress and a large number of men and women are in line waiting for their turn to come so they can get their money. The officers of the bank appear to be in the best of humor and say they are confident they can weather the storm.

Up to 12 o'clock, this writing, everything is quiet at the Colorado National. It is understood $500,000 in gold was received there just before the doors opened this morning. President Counts says that he has no idea he will need a single penny of the fresh supply of gold.

There is quite a crowd of people about the doors of the Denver National and it was rumored a run was in progress there, but it was soon found that the men were Union Pacific employees and that they were simply getting their checks cashed for last month's work.

"This bank is closed, by order of the Board of Directors," is the notice posted at every entrance to the National Bank of Commerce, of which ex-Gov. J. A. Cooper is President. The officers are inside, but no amount of pounding or entreaty has so far been sufficient for newspaper men to gain admission. The condition of this bank is not known to the general public, as its officers did not print a statement yesterday, as was done by almost all of the other banks. John R. Hanna of the City National Bank said that they felt themselves to be in good condition as anybody. The bank recently borrowed $40,000 from the East and is paying in gold this morning.

"If this thing keeps up," said Mr. Hanna, "it is only a question of time until we go down. The feeling is the same all over the country."

Mr. Hanna hopes to be able to control enough of the principal depositors made large deposits this morning, and friends of the bank are putting in sums to help. Those who are making runs on the bank are those who have small accounts. Some who owe the bank in large amounts but who are showing runs in their checks for their balances and have refused payment. The bank's liability to depositors whose funds are subject to withdrawal is but a small fraction of the total amount held nearly two-thirds, so that the cash on hand and that which is in safe deposit boxes will meet the demand of small depositors.

The Union National Bank closed its doors this morning, and a notice posted explaining that the bank had paid out only a portion of its assets, $14,000,000 to date, and that it would be unable to realize upon its securities, when all depositors will be paid in full. The bank expects to open again for business as soon as possible.

FORMALLY OPENED.

The Exhibit of the Thrifty Little Republic of Uruguay.

BLESSED AFTER THE SOLEMN CUSTOM OF SPANISH COUNTRIES.

Congress of the Youth of the World—The Chautauquans—Meeting of Educators of the Blind—The Kindergarteners—World's Fair Reaper Contest—Mrs. Rodney's Long Walk—News and Notes.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, July 18.—The exhibit of the thrifty little Republic of Uruguay at the Fair was formally opened to-day by Prudencio Penarulando, President of the Uruguayan commission to the World's Fair. There were several hundred invited guests present on the occasion, including a number of World's Fair officials. When all had assembled President Penarulando called for order and then presented Chancellor Muldoon who, acting for Archbishop Feehan, blessed the exhibit, after the solemn custom of all the countries represented. The Uruguayan then made a brief speech in which he welcomed the visitors to the Uruguayan section and invited their inspection. He spoke of the progress of his country and of the benefit they hoped to reap by making the invited guests were then presented a souvenirs—small pieces of the Uruguayan flag, a representation of the agricultural building, or the other coat of arms of the Republic. The ladies present were each given a bouquet in token of welcome.

This morning's session of the Congress of the Youth of the World was opened with a prayer by Rev. Dr. Alfred Haas. Hon. Fred D. Phineas, Charles Pentz, John Hicks and E. H. Conner, brief addresses were delivered by Clara Doty, Mrs. George W. Bliss, and others. The meeting was opened in a condition to call forth anarchist utterances, such as came from the convention last week. Without the intervention of Congress is problematical. The lazing man and the debtor class are the chief offenders.

Rev. Dr. Cooper of Colorado said yesterday:

The action and utterances of Gov. Waite in the Chautauqua meeting were ill-advised, and a tendency to do damage to our cause. Not one person except extremists endorses his views. While we are not prepared to repudiate our debt, the silver law should be repealed and something of a terror in the locality. Connally is said to be peaceable and inoffensive. He lived with his widowed mother and was found by unknown parties.

MANSFIELD, Pa., July 18.—Jerry Foley, a miner, was murdered here at 2 o'clock this morning. His slayer was John Connally, a fireman on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis. The murdered man met his death by a kick on the neck.

The murderer is under arrest. Foley is 30 years old and has a family. According to reports he is known to be a gambler and a scoundrel. The lazing man and the debtor class are the chief offenders.

Rev. Dr. Harper of the Chautauqua

Congress, Rev. Dr. Harper of the University of Chicago discussed Chautauqua in relation to Sunday-school, the church and university extension.

Rev. W. H. Millburn, the blind Chaplain of the United States House of Representatives, gave a warm-weather lecture on the education and needs of the blind in Hall 27 of the Art Institute this morning, and delivered an address on the telling way in which an agreement had been made in the education of the blind.

At the Kindergarten Congress addresses relating to different methods of work in this country were delivered by Prof. N. Hughes of Toronto, Miss Eleanor Harcourt of Germany, Prof. Daniel Batchelder of Philadelphia and Miss Caroline Hart of Boston.

In other halls congresses are in session for the consideration of university extension, kindergartens and general education. The Congress of Deaf Mutes held a brief session this morning.

The National Commission to-day confirmed the finding of the committee of inquiry which were made by the Committee on Awards and were presented this morning: George Martin, Little Rock, Ark.; architect; J. H. Birckhead, United States Architect; and mining; A. McIntyre, Watertown, S. D.; agriculture, Vice A. C. Melot; mining; Hon. H. T. Apple, Calif.; electricity; F. G. French, Boston, L. F. Lowe, Cleveland; Hon. H. Johnson, Detroit; J. C. Ladd, New Haven; architecture; E. H. Brown, Island H. McClellan, Washington, D. C.; M. Payne, New Jersey; H. C. Shaw, Indianapolis, and W. P. Hooper, Huntsville, Ala., in the department of transportation.

MRS. RODNEY EN ROUTE.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., July 18.—The progress of Mrs. C. B. Rodney, the lady pedestrain, walking from Galveston to Chicago on a wager, was watched to-day with considerable interest along the line of the Wabash out of East St. Louis. She was expected to start early in the day, but was delayed. She will be home Saturday evening, having reported a seizure by the Enterprise Band. Both Mrs. Rodney and the gentlemen of the party are in good health, though long on tramp, seeing both thin and tanned. She has lost her age at 23, but looks older. Her present weight is 100 pounds. The party left Edwardsville this morning to continue their journey to Chicago.

RABBIT CONTEST.

WAYNE, Ill., July 18.—Considerable interest attaches to the World's Fair reaper contest, which takes place here to-day on the farm of M. W. Dunham. The contest is to take place on a forty-acre field, and the conditions are such as to bring out the good points of the machines. The McCormick Harvester Co. of Chicago has a large sufficient proportion of its field to the Wabash, while many other machines will take part in the contest. Many of them a few days ago joined in the race, but have withdrawn. It is already assured that McCormick will not be alone, as the Whiteman company has entered, and other machines are now being tested to see if they will not be concluded until late in the day.

TO PINCH THE BANKS.

The Treasury Restating on Eastern Financial Concerns.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—Financial agents here are trying to ascertain the motives behind the recent heavy clearing house payments in New York, but the Treasury Department is non-committal. It is said that the Treasury Department is trying to take advantage of the smaller convenient currency for internal business and to pinches the banks, as the banks did the department in storing gold. The bank need small bills and the Treasury Department may force them to do so. The department has issued notes and certificates of small denomination; it is probable that the issue of gold certificates will not be made, as the gold reserves get about $100,000,000. The department is not compelled to do this.

THE BANCROFT'S TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The report of the Bancroft Board in the recent trial trip of the Bancroft has been received by the Navy Department. It shows that the vessel met every requirement, proving herself to be a good sea boat, and her guns were tried with perfect results. The report has been sent to the various bureaus of the department for examination, the reserve payments will be made.

LAMONT COMES HOME.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—Secretary Lamont arrived in Washington last evening to complete some arrangements for the selection and furnishing of his home. He remained in the city but a short time and then left for the East. He will stop at Buzzard's Bay and Mrs. Lamont will go on to Cape Cod.

FIGHT IN THE SENATE.

WHAT SENATOR JONES THINKS ABOUT SILVER LEGISLATION—FINANCE.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Senator Jones of Nevada is here arranging for the Free Silver Convention at Chicago, Aug. 1. The Senator told a reporter that whatever disposition the House makes of the Sherman act a repeat cannot pass the Senate unless a substitute is offered satisfactory to the champions of silver. "I am not sure," said he, "if I am up to the Senate from now until the terms of its members expire. Of course there is likely to be a few of us who were in free coinage or something like it will have a great deal to say. If we get tired talking a motion to adjourn, to go into recess, my motion is to adjourn without the closure if attempted?"

"But what if a closure is attempted?" suggested the reporter. "There is no more chance of a closure than there was during the Federal elections bill in the Fifty-first Congress. The man had a most unsavory reputation. He was run out of the State a year ago for horse-stealing, and was not return under the penalty of death. Meets did return, and dodged around in the woods to escape notice. He wanted his wife to mortgage her place in order to raise money for him, but she refused to do any means. He got the Chicago convention bids fair to prove a very popular and large one. We shall show strength which our opponents do not have."

NEW BABIES.

Installation of the Third Party of Patients at Tree View Farm.

Bethesda's Party Feasted and Threatened in Loss.

A BABY WHO NOT FEAR A COW THAT SEED HIM.

Hard Work for Doctors and Nurses in the Child's Summer Camp—Kind Words from Many Friends Who Add Their Dime and Dollars to the Fund—Little Help in the Work of Saving Little.

An hour after the arrival of the patients taken to Tree View Farm yesterday they were settled in their babies on the lawn.

Dinner had been served—a bountiful repast of soup, roast beef and vegetables, which all enjoyed. After the trip up there had been a lunch for children, but they were all earnest in attack on the open air table to which camp dinner bell called them.

Mrs. Pearl presided over the children's table and Miss Mary Currier over the mothers' table in the dining-room. A third table in the dining tent was occupied by the nurses and the verowhom the others.

There had been smart shower just as the Harpo boat landed at Elsie's and a deluge of some minutes in disembarking in consequence, but the rain was not heavy, as that which fell in St. Louis. The wagons were soon haled and off they went to the camp.

The rain had come in the atmosphere and made the trip up very pleasanter than he other parties had found it.

Miss Currier said, Pearl met the new officers at the station and assigned them to their quarters in house or in the tents which dot the lawn. They took instant possession of their quarters and prepared to stay there.

One baby and its mother were withdrawn from the Bethesda party and returned to the city with the others who no longer needed to remain at the arm but two more babies were added to this party, which now numbers twenty-four. One of these is a Bethesda favorite, Lloyd. He is a bright little fellow, who has recently undergone surgical operation. This does not bother him much, and as he is ready to smile on the fingers' provocation he finds a good many smiles with.

The nurse told great stories of him. He wandered into a cow lot today and the unappreciative cow tossed him into the air. He was rescued before a sedo toss by some workmen and carried into the house white and limp. In a short time he was himself again and started out of house. Asked where he was going, he said: "Goin' to see cow."

All the boy babies seem have more wipers among the girls than the girls, and it is natural in Lloyd's exceptional grit and pleasant a should wait all of them to his service.

Mrs. Haynes, the Prent of Bethesda, and Dr. Chapman of the medical staff accompanied the addition to the Bethesda party. Dr. Chapman will stay all week and will devote himself to task of two in the party, who, in spite of everything that has been done, still their arrival in camp, have not been able to escape the troubles which endanger their lives in the city.

Hopital attendants thought they noted improvement, but continuance of bad customs has not convinced the physicians that the disease came too late. However, having in hundreds of cases in which children have been saved who seemed on the edge of grave, nurses and physicians are doing what they can for the little ones and are hoping for their fears.

Robert is one of the—a name that was shortened to Bob, and affectionate nurses' lips has become Bobbie in another favorite, and if loving caress help him he will be saved.

There are several of babies in the camp that will have to lie for life. They will need all the good the can get from the pure air of the camp; the care of the physician in charge and entive nurses.

Dr. A. G. Enderle, in medical charge of the camp this evening, began his work among the sick on the boat and took upon the responsibility. Dr. T. P. Tim relinquished the care of the party's arrival at Tree View Farm. Dr. Russell, who for nearly two weeks had devoted himself to the babies, had been relieved Friday Dr. Tim who wished to familiarize himself with the work he will undertake later in season for a longer term. Dr. Enderle's charge will not prove pleasant but he overlooks with the enthusiasm of an eager physician which in sure success.

There were more applicants for transportation to the camp yesterday than could be accommodated. In seven instances large families of children who were not really sick nor yet perfectly strong, had to be refused, as there would no place to put them. In consequence of this necessity only those persons can be accepted in the future who have tickets which have been purchased at this office for registration and counterfeiting, his rule will be adhered to with strictness. All sick babies will be accepted, but as far as it is possible perfectly well children will be excluded. The only admittance to the privileges of the camp are orthopedic nurses.

Yesterday's party is the largest yet taken to the camp, and a great many babies and nurses of last week's party remained the camp is now fully occupied.

Generous persons have added substantially to the funds I have for the expenses of this work. Numerous contributions were received yesterday and to-day. Every cent added enlarged possibilities of the camp, which will grow fast as the money in hand and the pressure applications justify.

CARD SET CHILDREN GIVE. The Treasur of Carondelet Presbyterian Church sunshower turned over $5 to the camp fund yesterday. This sum has been contributed by the children of that school, who were of great grace and good work was being done on Tree View Farm toward the relief of suffering and the giving to poor children on chance for health and life.

BASE BALL SIGNALS.

Players Use a Sign Language on the Field.

CHARACTERISTIC MOTIONS USED BY FAMOUS CATCHERS AND PITCHERS.

A Point on the Game That Spectators Do Not See—Closing Week at Chelmsford Track and Stable Gossip—The Jig-Ulistic World—Sporting News of All Sorts.

What makes Catcher Gunson squat down behind the bat like a frog pulling itself together for a long leap? That is all. He squats close to the ground and signals with his hands from between his knees. This is to prevent the men on the coaching lines from observing the movements.

Signaling is a feature of the game that is a dark secret to the average spectator, but it is one of the principal points of the game for all that and the Delarcean poses, waves of the hand and motions of the limbs that the catcher goes on with are a perfect sign language understood by every man on the field. The catcher is the head signaller, the pitcher signals to him. The reason why the mummery is lost on the spectators is that it is done in such a way as not to attract observation. The opposing players are watching like hawks for the slightest intimation of what their adversaries are up to and signs that the spectators could understand would be of little avail.

The most bothersome feature of the signaling system is that the signs have to be changed every time a player is released. The reason is plain. Tom Murnane, writing recently about the signalers said: "Masses of Harvard signals with his arm extended at full length, resembling a signboard. I have yet to hear of one getting on to Mason's style, and the old 'I'm all right' sign, with the pitcher, did his own signaling with a toothpick in his mouth. Scott Hastings, perhaps the first man to signal with his fingers, has always won his fingers from the side of his hips, and when he intended to throw to base, he pushed his hands up with his fingers pointing to the ground, the ball being held in his palm. In this it is all understood by the players. The whole game is figured down to scientific signaling, and the men that lose their heads will not get them back again. Now and then some team will bring away and win games, but they seldom pull out of batting contests unless well up in the race for the best percentage in each."

CINCINNATI'S NEWS FRIDAY.

The St. Louis Browns will return home tomorrow, and on Thursday will play the Belleville Clerks at Belleville. Friday Comiskey's Cincinnati will open their last championship series in St. Louis this season, playing the Browns Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Browns are right in it with Cincinnati in the championship race, and the two teams will be meeting again around town is that the Browns will forge ahead of them the rest of the season. It is the same old story. The Browns have much love lost between the two teams, especially since the Vaughn incidents transpired. If the weather is pleasant these three days the Browns will be in town on opening day will, no doubt, be in attendance.

Gleason, Breitenthal, and Clarkson will pitch for the Browns, while Sullivan and Chamberlain will swirl for Cincinnati.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

Both Philadelphia and Boston had an off day yesterday. Washington and New York started a new record of 10 wins. New York and the Easterners came to camp to the tune of 4 to 1. Cleveland made 12 runs with 10 hits in making 12, and Baltimore scored 9 to Brooklyn's 5.

BALL GOLF.

The Browns play at Belleville Thursday and open with Cincinnati Friday.

The Columbian Athletic Club has furnished a heavy-weight curtain raiser to precede the contest between young Corbett and Paddy Smith at Roby two weeks from to-morrow night. The contestants in the heavyweight battle will be Ed Mayo and Henry Baker, the heavyweight champion of Chicago. The club has put up a purse of $1,000, to which each of the principals has added $500, so that the total will be $2,000. The money has never met before.

The contest between Smith and Corbett will be the first in the lightweight division of the Columbia's amateur boxing program. The men are to weigh 125 pounds for a purse of $500, of which the winner is to receive $2,500. The new training quarters and hotel adjoining the club is controlled by Mr. Robertson, who will open soon with Dan Creeden of Australia, who is scheduled to meet Alex. Gregorius Aug. 14. Gregorius is the favorite for the contest at West Roxbury, Mass., near Boston.

JOHNNY GRIFFIN AFTER MORE FIGHT.

John T. Griffin, recently defeated by Solly Smith before the Columbia's Athletic Club, has deposited with the club $1,000 to meet any featherweight in the world. Solly Smith preferred, for $2,000 a side, and any reasonable purse. He emphasized his statement by saying that he would not fight for less than $2,000. The match has never met before.

The bout in the championship race from now on will be red hot. If the Browns are to-day and to-morrow and the Browns win at Chicago, the percentage between them will be very great, and the Browns will proceed to cut out another.

The American Yacht Navaho.

BOSTON, Mass., July 18.—A cable from Southampton says: "The American yacht Navaho was successfully docked here Monday morning. She is in excellent condition. The general opinion is that she is not likely to do well this year. Rudolph Loudon, Ida Pickwick, Rev. S. Riley, Joe Bishop, Mrs. Frank, Mrs. L. L. Lovell, Highland, Nawton, Maid Marian, Yo Tang, Belmont, Blenheim, Helen Nichols, Aloha, Champion, Strathearn, Falero, Don Chish, Santa Anna, Michael, Pessaro, Lake Breeze and Diablo are all eligible and the field may be as strong as that for the Columbia meeting.

TRACK AND STABLE GOSSIP.

What makes Catcher Gunson squat down behind the bat like a frog pulling itself together for a long leap? That is all. He squats close to the ground and signals with his hands from between his knees. This is to prevent the men on the coaching lines from observing the movements.

Signaling is a feature of the game that is a dark secret to the average spectator, but it is one of the principal points of the game for all that and the Delarcean poses, waves of the hand and motions of the limbs that the catcher goes on with are a perfect sign language understood by every man on the field. The catcher is the head signaller, the pitcher signals to him. The reason why the mummery is lost on the spectators is that it is done in such a way as not to attract observation. The opposing players are watching like hawks for the slightest intimation of what their adversaries are up to and signs that the spectators could understand would be of little avail.

The most bothersome feature of the signaling system is that the signs have to be changed every time a player is released. The reason is plain. Tom Murnane, writing recently about the signalers said: "Masses of Harvard signals with his arm extended at full length, resembling a signboard. I have yet to hear of one getting on to Mason's style, and the old 'I'm all right' sign, with the pitcher, did his own signaling with a toothpick in his mouth. Scott Hastings, perhaps the first man to signal with his fingers, has always won his fingers from the side of his hips, and when he intended to throw to base, he pushed his hands up with his fingers pointing to the ground, the ball being held in his palm. In this it is all understood by the players. The whole game is figured down to scientific signaling, and the men that lose their heads will not get them back again. Now and then some team will bring away and win games, but they seldom pull out of batting contests unless well up in the race for the best percentage in each."

ST. LOUIS STABLE GOSSIP.

Geo. E., better known as Pittsburg Phil, Smith's good colt Parvus may be able to run a race by the Sheephead Bay meeting. If Mr. Smith should get him around to racing form in the autumn the colt would enable the Pittsburg plunger to re-establish his bank account. Mr. Smith, like Messrs. Gideon & Daly, has seen the wrong side of the fence. The Pittsburg Fair has been a success over $40,000 in value, including medals and trophies of various kinds. The amateur gaffs will take place at the same grounds.

SCOTTISH ATHLETIC SPORTS.

Arrangements have been completed for the Scottish week of festivities which opens Monday, July 24, under the auspices of the North American United Caledonian Association and Chicago Caledonian Society. The professional games will be held at the Scotch Hall, 11th and Franklin. The amateur games over $40,000 in value, including medals and trophies of various kinds. The amateur gaffs will take place at the same grounds.

HENNESSY SAVED.*An Attempt to Remove the Supervisor of Plumbing Pails.

The Board of Public Improvements met this morning, with all the members present. The City Comptroller appeared before the board and stated that all property condemned for widening Twenty-first street, between Poplar and Randolph streets, had been paid for and it only remained for the board to say what disposition should be made of the houses on the east side of Twenty-first street. The matter was referred to the Committee on Streets.

President McNath submitted bids for the granite pavements around the surgical wards at the City Hospital, the St. Louis Terminal Association submitted plans for a bridge to carry Florissant avenue over their tracks between Virtue and Union avenues, and also plans for another bridge to carry their tracks over Goodfellow avenue, near the Natural Bridge Road.

The Committee on Plumbing, in the matter of the charges preferred against Supervisor Thomas Hennessy by Wm. H. Graham reported that he had found some of the charges true.

The report was made the object of the special business at the noon session.

The committee in its report found that the charges were sustained in so far as there had been a number of draw-cooks illegally placed in front of lots, thereby causing great mechanical dislocation followed by the reading of this report in the noon session of the board, to the action to be taken.

The report recommended that the Supervisor be notified of his neglect of duty and informed that he must do better in the future. Mr. Hennessy was given a written reprimand. A copy of the notice given by the St. Louis and St. Louis Bell Railway to its board of directors, for the sum of $2,000,000 was read for record here yesterday.

Mr. John Raster of Eddyville, who is sick at St. Louis, was brought to the hospital, where his husband had been killed by a train at Eddyville.

Circuit Judge Wilderman yesterday awarded to Peter Hall of Macoupin the custody of his two young sons, left behind by their grandfather, John Hall and wife.

Dr. O. F. Brightwell of this city was informed yesterday that his son, Dr. O. F. Brightwell, died at Beaver Falls, Pa., last night for Beavers Falls attend the funeral.

HELD BY THE CORONER.

He Orders the Arrest of a Motorman in an Inquest To-day.

Coroner Frank held an inquest to-day on the body of Julius E. Krukeemeyer, the 6-year-old boy who was run over and killed on Sunday last at Garfield and Vandeventer. Theodore Lodenig, the motorman of the car, was held as criminally careless, and was arrested in the Coroner's office. Frank said that the evidence as summed up by the Coroner showed that the child was crossing the street on the morning of the accident, the motorman in approaching the cross street failed to ring the bell, and was looking sideways and could not see the child, as he could have done, had he been looking ahead until the car was almost to the child. When this evidence was brought out, Frank, who had been called to the inquest, the local Committees on Entertainment composed of George J. Hornback, Wm. Winters, Jas. J. Williams, John Collins and Frank G. Miller, voted to accept the Grand Republic for that evening.

Chief of Police Harrigan Persuaded by Prosecuting Attorney to Change Mind.

The amicable relations existing between the Prosecuting Attorney's office and the Police Department were threatened with rupture this morning through the refusal of Acting Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Knapp to issue a warrant against W. D. Winter, who is under arrest charged with forging the signature of Dr. J. R. Bryson to two checks, one on the Commercial Bank and one on the Bank of Commerce for $250. To the police Winter admitted that he had forged the signature, and all the money with the exception of Detective Dan O'Connell first applied to Attorney Knapp for a warrant against Winter, but was refused owing to the fact that he had not yet told the truth, and that there would be no prosecution of the case. He then sought out Mr. Estep in the Court of Criminal Appeals, and Frank Britton, before him, with no better success. Mr. Knapp was acting for Mr. Estep and the latter refused to interfere in the matter. O'Connell, however, and his friends, took to the National Commission, who issued a warrant against Winter.

To say that the Chief was not, when he heard that a warrant was issued for his apprehension, very angry is to say nothing of the case. He will see whether he will issue a warrant or not, and if he does, it will be to the Prosecuting Attorney to decide.

"That is all we wish. We will prosecute, but if we are hampered and opposed in the courts as we are up here the case may possibly fall through," warmly retorted the Chief.

"Oh, I only wanted to be sure that the case was not going to be dropped," answered Mr. Britton, putting his pen in the ink preparatory to making out the warrant.

"We prosecute all offenders, no matter what their rank or position in society, so long as they had gained his point, he left the office. A warrant was issued charging Winter with forgery in the second degree.

Chief Harrigan, however, did not prosecute him to the end, but the police will take steps to have her committed to the asylum. Her husband had said to leave his home about two weeks ago and had gone to work on a farm in Illinois.
